2 Service

The purpose of Norwegian Deepwater Programme is to join forces and collaborate. Information related to the Norwegian Deepwater Programme is stored and managed in License2Share.

2.1 Description

The Norwegian Deepwater Programme was founded April 1996 on the same scheme as used by licenses on the Norwegian Continental Shelf in the period 1980-1994 (OKN-Operators North of 62°N). The deep-water licenses in Norway joined forces in order to carry out cost effective preparations for safe and efficient drilling and field development, mainly covering an area between 62°N and 69°N, from the continental shelf at 400 m water depth to the abyssal plain at approximately 2500 m.

The Norwegian Deepwater Programme has so far been extended five times. Phase 5 has come to an end and in September 2016 the programme was completed.
